

THE UNMARKED ROAD

Lyrics by Mitchell Charles

I'm lost in a sea of empty faces
I turn away from their lifeless gazes
I feel alone and forsaken
I carry on my faith unshaken

Why do I seek the unmarked road?
Because it's there I know my journey will unfold

I sit alone and bask in the stillness
Recounting the past I seek forgiveness
The demons I face are not my opponent
Returning to grace I savor the moment

That's why I seek the unmarked road
Because it's there I know my journey will unfold

It's becoming clear
All the things I fear
They're just stories in my head
Now I know There's a righteous path ahead

I long to be home but my path is mistaken
I'll go where it takes for my soul to awaken

I'll follow my heart wherever it leads me
The awareness I find is what will free me

That's why I take the unmarked road
Because it's there I know my journey will unfold

It's now so clear
The things I used to fear
Foolish stories in my head
(But) Now I'm on The righteous path ahead

That's why I take
That's why I take the unmarked road
Because it's there
It's there my journey will unfold
