

WALL OF STONE

Lyrics by Mitchell Charles

Shattered by another
You appeared with broken wings
And ran for cover
In search of your king

You give yourself freely
With your heart tucked away
(Having) Not learned the lessons
That led you astray

A wall of stone
Protects your heart
To keep away others
Who'll tear it apart

You paint your wall, With adoring care
While your house within, Is in disrepair

Your reluctant to smile With truth in your eyes
So not to reveal Your artful disguise

A wall of stone
You build day by day
So those who love you
You can keep them away

Open your heart
Love is the key
Tear down your wall
Set yourself free

The ache in your heart
Has left you alone
Trapped behind
Your wall of stone

A wall of stone
Protects your heart
To keep away lovers
Who'll tear it apart

A wall of stone
You build day by day
So those who love you
You can keep them away
